

Boplan United Kingdom – Boplan UK - Service Coordinator

Service Coordinator

Our company

Boplan® is a Belgian company that has been developing and producing innovative, sustainable safety solutions for industrial environments and sports events for more than 25 years. Boplan operates in more than 80 countries to protect people, vehicles, buildings and infrastructure worldwide, in industries such as logistics, manufacturing, (petro)chemicals, cold storage and airports.

Our mission is to create the safest industrial workplaces in the world.

With over 300 employees, 10 sales offices in Europe, North America and Japan, and a network of 50 distributors, Boplan offers complete safety solutions that meet the strictest international standards. Our products and technologies are recognised worldwide as the benchmark for industrial safety.

Boplan fosters a young and dynamic culture in which a no-nonsense attitude goes hand in hand with enthusiasm and a drive for innovation.

Our team players

- Don't wait, but take initiative
- Have a positive attitude: see possibilities instead of problems
- Are dynamic and flexible
- Are open and respectful towards each other
- Have desire and ambition to play at top level
- "Are ready for impact": maintain calm and focus at peak moments
- Each is a valuable link in the team of players, "teamwork makes the dream work"

Your tasks & responsibilities

- In the quotation phase you start working after the preparation by your colleagues from sales and internal sales. You calculate the installation prices, duration and required manpower per project.
- For larger projects you are already involved in the discussions in the initial phase.
- In collaboration with the internal sales team, you plan the installations, and you also ensure the organization of the work of the installation team.
- You prepare well for the start-up of a site, often with an on-site visit in advance.
- You provide the necessary preparation for the installers: a technical plan, possibly photos on site for clarification and of course the correct materials (tools, etc.).

- You are the point of contact for your team, (internal) sales and the customer during the execution of the works.
- You carefully monitor the sites and always focus on safety and quality in accordance with the internal and external prescribed procedures.
- You are ultimately responsible for delivering each installation.
- You lead the installation team.

Your profile

With full enthusiasm you storm the playing field together with the team, shoulder to shoulder. You are able to commit to the long term and grow with the organization. You will be the caption of your career, as a convinced Boplan® ambassador in and around the field.

- You obtained a bachelor's degree, preferably in a technical field.
- You are a proactive, solution oriented thinker and doer.
- Experience in coordinating technical installation works is a strong added value.
- You are analytically strong, you work in a planned and structured manner and you have excellent organizational skills and leadership experience.
- You are a born coach with strong communication skills and leadership experience. Customer-friendly communication characterizes you.
- You are willing to follow up projects throughout the UK
- An interest in safety matters is necessary to do this job with passion.
- Further develop yourself in an innovative and dynamic company in full growth
- A challenging and varied job where personal initiative is highly valued
- An inspiring career in a highly collegial group atmosphere where we speak to each other
- A modern framework, with easy accessibility
- And of course a nice salary with extras
